Banana Republic R Us....

Nothing observed from the U. S. government, seems intended to promote democracy which is of We The People----

Standing Rock has just begun----Register to be involved---You can't evict a movement---

Those from the '60's will remember the phrase----"what if they threw a war and nobody showed up?" To update-----"what if they threw an oligarchy and nobody showed up?" It would be called democracy, local communities would eschew support to offensive commercial interests, and local economy would be the goal.

Received from Democracy For America---PETITION---

Will you join me in urging Chuck Schumer to drop Sen. Manchin from his leadership team?

Joe Manchin has voted for 11 out the 14 Cabinet nominees the Senate has decided on -- that's worse than any other Senate Democrat. Manchin even voted for the white supremacist Jeff Sessions. And he remained silent when Trump launched a racist attack on Elizabeth Warren.

We cannot allow any Senate Democrat to undermine the resistance or enable Trump like this. There need to be some consequences. Joe Manchin is a member of the Senate Democratic leadership. Democracy for America is joining CREDO Action, #AllofUs, The Other 98, and 350 Action to tell Chuck Schumer that Manchin shouldn't serve in Senate leadership any more.

Please join me in urging Chuck Schumer to drop Sen. Manchin from his leadership team.

Thank you for joining me today.

Joe Manchin is the Dad of Bresch of EpiPen fame.

<http://www.usatoday.com/story/news/politics/2016/09/20/family-matters-epipens-had-help-getting-schools-manchin-bresch/90435218/> -- These are the people who supported the Hillary Clinton Presidential Campaign. You do the math.

The crack-down on the U. S. public is reflective of a dictatorship---

Pipelines across America are disenfranchising the public from a clean and healthful environment. These are violations of both human rights and environmental rights. Commercial interests (www.alec.org) buy laws byway of authorship of legislation at the end of the ostensible gun barrel of political campaign contributions to so-called Representatives Of The People. This is lawful but violates human rights. The Supreme Court must have been on the payroll.

* <http://www.ecowatch.com/leukemia-oil-gas-wells-2280665249.html> -- To those uninterested in environmental issues because it is about Bambi and bunnies, keep in mind that Bambi and bunnies are breathing the same air, eating food from the same soil, and drinking the same water as does your child. When your child gets a disease, don't blame it on an "ism".

* <http://www.counterpunch.org/2017/02/23/the-illusion-of-freedom-the-police-state-is-alive-and-well/> -- A militarized police force is necessary in an authoritarian government. The soothing notion of a so-called Heroes Protection Act promoted by NYS Senator Akshar would be unthinkable in a functioning democracy. In a democracy, local law enforcement would have a mission of protecting and serving, and would be seen as such by the public.

Capitalism calls it good business practice.....democracy calls it human rights violation.

* ACA -- The legislation called ACA or Obamacare was a total sell-out to industry. If the U. S. government cared about human health, it would ensure healthy policies, environmental, social, and economic, that didn't kill people. Short of that, the U. S. government would provide a 1-payer Health Plan. Short of that, it would allow, for example, Medicare to negotiate price. Short of that, it would ensure the medical industry didn't sicken the U. S. public, such as in the opioid addiction problem or the hormone-replacement for menopausal women that caused breast cancer, or support natural and healthy food devoid of GMO's and chemicals that are the natural medicine for people.

The ACA, like the 2008 Financial Bailout, was a joke on the U. S. public to further enrich oligarchs.

* Trump wants to get rid of welfare....one assumes he means to the U. S. public, not to corporations. In fact, welfare is harmful to people due to the undignified nature of delivery. People are made to stand in lines, compete for jobs, if a job a $7.00 per hour is secured, the welfare is reduced. Recipients aren't allowed to live together to support each other. Bureaucracy needed to run the system is expensive and cumbersome. Welfare saps people of the initiative to advance into entrepreneurial excellence....which, by the way, suits corporations who will exploit these degraded human beings and throw them away when they are no longer needed.

* An alternative that promotes justice and equality, when one recalls the welfare to corporations that have shifted wealth from the 99% to the 1% (one example is NAFTA) is a Basic Income. A Basic Income will bring the 99% back into The Economy, which has been hijacked by the 1% as their own. It isn't. The Economy belongs to the U. S. public. A Basic Income would provide a low survival base for EVERYONE. From this base, if the person is inspired into entrepreneurial excellence, he/she would have the time, energy, and lack of desperation to put their genius to work. If their vision works, it will add to their Base Income survival, without the government needing social workers, law enforcement, or degradation of the citizen byway of casting aspersions as to their worth, which is normal in a welfare system. Whether the cash comes from the Base Income or the amount beyond the Base Income the person earns from his own enterprise (real free enterprise, not corporate exploitation), will go directly back into the local economy. Local people spend money locally, corporations remove the wealth from local communities and send it....for example.....to offshore bank accounts.

* A strong military is important, but that isn't The Military-Industrial Complex. Globalization is imperialism. Imperialism demands armed insurrection. Armed insurrection has come full circle around the Globe and is used at Standing Rock, and will be used to control a U. S. public that is exploited by commercial interests/government in Capitalism.

To do the same thing expecting different results is a definition of insanity.
